

BAZAAR TO BE QUAIN AND BRILLIANT FETE

Section of Central Europe Will Be Represented at Benefit Event This Week.

A section of central Europe, representing the countries at war with the entente nations, has been erected in Odd Fellows Hall, Seventh street, and all this week will be thronged with the quaintly dressed peasants and country folk of those countries at the charity bazaar for the widows and orphans of Germany, Austria, Bulgaria, and Turkey.

Under the charge of the fifteen German societies of the District and the representatives of the four nations in the United States, the organizers of the bazaar have attempted to make it the most elaborate and attractive fair in this city during the season.

Resident and official society, as well as German, Austrian, Bulgarian, and Turkish organizations in Washington, have worked for the past month in perfecting preparations, and for the last week have been engaged in erecting the booths and exhibits.

Officials Participate.

Ambassador von Bernstorff, of Germany; Charles d'Affaires Baron Erich von Zwiédnek, of the Austrian embassy; Mme. Abdul Hak Hussein Bey, wife of the charge d'affaires of the Turkish embassy; Mme. Stephan Panaretoff, wife of the Bulgarian minister, and Princess von Hatzfeldt-Trachenberg, wife of the counselor of the German embassy, have taken a leading part in the organization of the fete together with Martin Wiegand, of the United-German Societies; Dr. Margaret Eck, of the ladies' auxiliary, German-American relief committee; George Bensler and Gustav Bender, of the United German Societies.

In addition to these active workers on the executive committee in charge, the list of patrons and patronesses of the fair include Mrs. Robert S. McCormick, Mrs. Richard Townsend, Mrs. Rolins Morse, Mme. Christian Hauke, M. A. Wesley Merritt, and Mrs. Christian Heurich. Pretty girls in Bulgarian and Turkish costumes will be an important feature of the bazaar, as the members of the committees formed by Mme. Panaretoff and Mme. Hussein Bey to attend to the wants of the patrons of the Bulgarian coffee room that has been arranged. Mme. Panaretoff will have personal charge of the coffee urn, and says she will make the coffee herself, and that it will be the real Bulgarian kind.

In Native Costumes.

Mme. Hussein Bey will be in personal charge of the cigar and cigarette stand in the coffee room. The attendants at both stands will be in Bulgarian and Turkish costumes, respectively, and the young women have been recruited by the two women from the Diplomatic Corps from their immediate circle of society friends.

The booth where the articles made by German prisoners of war in Russia will be sold, will be under the direct charge of Dr. Margaret Eck and the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary German-American ly. The Saengerbund and Germania Maennchen; also will contribute to the musical program.

To Give Musical Drills.

An important feature of the fair will be the musical drill to be given on Tuesday and Friday nights by a team of young women under the command of Miss Pauline Holer. The members of this team include the Misses Barbara Weigand, Louise Ehrhardt, Lillie Weber, Clara Wernsen, Elsie Hammel, Anna Heuchert, Valerie Linsbach, Regina Weigand, Lorraine Ferber, Dora Wakemann, Frances Robinson, Marie Grund, Lottie Steiner, Clara Broechin, Anita Wakemann, Anna Broechin, Eva Linsbach, Sophie Helphenstine, Eleonore Wakemann, Adella Wakemann, Matilda Redeker, Eleonore Schwarz, Margarete Dellinger, Mamie Sabotta, Mamie Schmidt, and Ellen Hellers.

Some Farmers Treating Cows Better Than Wives

TOPEKA, Feb. 12.—"Stop making a drudge of your wife," said C. J. Galpin, of the University of Wisconsin, speaking to a large assemblage of farmers at the opening session of the farmers' course and homemaker's conference at the Onalaska agricultural school. Mr. Galpin was speaking in "Community Development."

"For the convenience and accommodation of their stock," declared Mr. Galpin, "farmers will build wells and watering troughs close to their barns. But their wives sometimes have to carry water for the house a distance as far as a city block."

Howard Alumni Meet.

What the alumni can do for Howard University was discussed by the Rev. D. E. Wiseman before the Washington alumni of the institution at a meeting last night in Library Hall.

by President Wilson, was to put supporters of the Sheppard bill on record as being unalterably opposed to submission of the liquor problem to the residents of the District for settlement.

Elks Favor Referendum.

Among the organizations in Washington favoring a referendum is Washington Lodge, No. 15, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The resolution protesting against the Sheppard bill and demanding a referendum adopted by the Elks follows:

"Whereas, There are now pending in the Senate and House of Representatives a number of bills providing absolute prohibition for the District of Columbia, and

"Whereas, These bills are intended to prevent not only the manufacture and sale of liquors in the clubs, cafes, and hotels of the District, but also the possession and use of liquors in the private home and by the individual citizen under any and all circumstances, and

"Whereas, These measures are aimed at destroying by act of Congress the freedom of conscience, the liberty of the individual citizen in matters of personal habit, conduct and morals, and inherent personal rights in a fundamental regard, and

"Whereas, Washington Lodge, No. 15, of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, as an organization of American citizens, are with other liberty loving free citizens of the United States, unalterably opposed to all proposals of law which curtail liberty and tends to destroy in whole or in part the rights, privileges, immunities and liberties for the preservation and perpetuation of which this free government is ordained and

"Whereas, one of these liberty-destrorying bills, the Sheppard prohibition bill, Senate No. 388, has been reported without committee hearings, under the bust of the Anti-Saloon League of the District of Columbia, an organization committed to the securing of prohibition in the District of Columbia by any means and at all hazards, that said bill has been put through the committee and is now pending on the calendar of the Senate to be disposed of at an early date.

"Therefore be it Resolved, that Washington Lodge, No. 15, B. P. O. Elks, having a membership of more than 500 American citizens, residents of the District of Columbia, hereby expresses its opposition to said Sheppard prohibition bill, and other similar measures, and protests against the passage of such legislation, and be it further

"Resolved, that the Congress be petitioned by Washington Lodge, No. 15, B. P. O. Elks, not to enact said measure or one similar to it, and be it further

"Resolved, that the club favor a referendum on the prohibition question before any prohibition law be enacted or become effective in this District, and be it further that the liberty-loving free American citizens throughout the United States endorse the views expressed in these resolutions."

The Amendment.

That Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, and Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury, will find the Sheppard bill, as amended to allow the Corby Company to manufacture pure grain alcohol, provides for the purchase by those departments of all the alcohol they need, was the statement today by E. C. Brandenburg, attorney for the company, who drew the amendment.

"Section 2 of the Sheppard bill, as amended to exempt the Corby Company from the provisions of the measure," said Mr. Brandenburg, "reads as follows:

"The provisions of this act shall not be construed to prevent the manufacture of ethyl alcohol in the District of Columbia under the internal revenue laws and regulations governing the manufacture or its sale for shipment outside of the District or its sale to the United States Government, local municipal authorities, hospitals, and licensed dealers in said District."

"With this amendment in the bill, the Government could continue to purchase all necessary alcohol," Mr. Brandenburg concluded.

MISSOURI SONS AT FRONT IN THE HOUSE

State Society, at Banquet, Told of Part They Play in Nation's Affairs.

Five of the fifteen important committees in Congress are presided over by Missourians, two hundred natives of the State and half as many guests were told by Congressman Scott Ferris of Oklahoma, at the sixth annual banquet of the Missouri Society at Rauscher's last night.

Congressman Ferris, like Congressman Howard Sutherland of West Virginia, and Jerry South, chief clerk of the House, both of whom told of early experiences in Missouri, was born in that State.

The banquet, which was in the form of a buffet supper followed by dancing, was presided over by Third Assistant Postmaster General A. M. Deschery, formerly governor of Missouri. President W. N. Holmes, of the society, made the opening address.

President Holmes was chairman of the committee on arrangements, assisted by Governor Dockery, James T. Lloyd, Otis J. Rogers, W. C. Deane, Hubert Johnson, O. W. Wyatt, I. C. Henry, and John F. Baal.

Censor Removes Kaiser.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—The Pennsylvania State board of censors have cut seventy-five feet of film from the motion picture "East" at the Chestnut Street Opera House, showing the Emperor "close up" and also eliminated pictures "with Von Hindenburg at the front" under the law prohibiting scenes that are "sacrilegious, obscene, indecent or immoral, or tend to debase or corrupt the public morals."

CIVIL WAR VETERANS LAND "CY" SULLOWAY

Congressman's Efforts for G. A.
R. Eulogized at New Hampshire Society Dinner.

What "Cy" Sulloway, Congressman from New Hampshire, has done for the Union veterans of the civil war, during his twenty years of service in the House, was told by members of the G. A. R. and a number of his colleagues in Congress, at the banquet of the New Hampshire Society at the Dewey last night, in which many G. A. R. members joined.

Among the speakers who eulogized Congressman Sulloway were Senator Knute Nelson, and Congressmen Sherwood, Webb, Fuller, Fordney, Clark, Wason, and Moses. The veterans were represented among the speakers by George H. Slaybaugh, senior vice commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., and Col. John McElroy.

George L. Whitford was toastmaster, and the committee in charge of the banquet was composed of Henry L. Johnson, Charles H. Bowker, and G. B. Wheelock.

The Custom of Giving Valentines is both an ancient and a pretty one. For centuries it has been observed in some form or other. Our grandfathers and grandmothers made theirs at home, laboriously cutting and pasting tiny bits of colored paper and tinsel.

But nowadays the form of the Valentine has changed. No longer is the thing of paper, tinsel and celluloid given. The message of affection is best conveyed by

FLOWERS

"The Valentine Ideal"

A floral token carries with it a message unspoken yet understood. Their fragrance breathes the heart's true love in a way not to be translated by the lips.

Let Flowers be YOUR Valentine this year. They will be received with delight and cause the giver's thoughtfulness to be met with appreciation. These Florists of Washington will supply you with Dainty Bouquets, Artistic Baskets, or Growing Flowers and Ferns:
